Can't We Talk about Something More Pleasant? by Roz Chast
Call Number: Reserve - Orbach NC1429 C525 A2 2014
ISBN: 9781608198061
Publication Date: 2014-05-06

#1 New York Times Bestseller In her first memoir, Roz Chast brings her signature wit to the topic of aging and documents, and a narrative as rife with laughs as it is with tears, Chast's memoir is both comfort and comic relief for anyone experiencing the life-altering loss of elderly parents. Spanning the last several years of their lives and told through four-color cartoons, family photos, practices of denial, avoidance, and distraction. But when Elizabeth Chast climbed a ladder to locate an old souvenir from the "crazy closet"-with predictable results-the tools that had served Roz well through her parents' seventies, eighties, and into their early nineties could no longer be deployed. While the particulars are Chast-ian in their idiosyncrasies-an anxious father who had relied heavily on his wife for stability as he slipped into dementia and a former assistant principal mother whose hearing personality had sidelined Roz for decades-the themes are universal: adult children accepting a parental role; leaving home for an institution; dealing with uncomfortable physical intimacies; managing the end of two lives at their end and an only child
